DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 8 and 10 contains the trademark/trade name Armstrong NV519. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe a material and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujikawa (4,272,085).

Fujikawa discloses a gasket between a hub and support member (e.g. 5 and 6) comprising a body means 8 having a first plurality of openings 10 and a channel aperture 11 in registration with openings in a support member 5 and hub 6. A polymer (silicone) patch 15 is integral with the body and the channel aperture passes therethrough such that a leak proof seal is provided between the support member and hub openings and the channel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujikawa.

Fujikawa does not disclose the thickness of the body or patch or that the body is made from Armstrong NV519 material. These limitations are considered design choices. It is not considered inventive to discover the workable or optimum ranges by routine experimentation. See In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955). Further, the selection of a known material based on its suitability for its intended use is not considered inventive. See In re Leshin 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960). Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the body and patch with the required thickness and to make the body from Armstrong NV519 material as a matter of choice in design.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 11-13 are allowed.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to disclose the combination of limitations required by the claims, especially that the surfaces of the body are planar except in the area of the polymer patch. This makes the claim narrower than the allowed claims (e.g. 1) of US 6,325,388.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 1-10 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 2-9 and 14-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,325,388.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both claim at least a gasket between a hub and center support comprising a body with plural openings, a channel aperture, and a silicone patch, wherein the patch surrounds the channel aperture to form a leak proof seal between the gasket, hub, and support openings.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
